

Employee Solutions: Effective Help Wanted Ad Copy

We are looking to complete our elite team. Do You Have What it Takes?

Pizza Masters

We are looking for strong willed individuals who want to become a Pizza Master, learning the forgotten art of brick oven tending, pizza tossing, dough making and perhaps some acrobatic dough throwing. If you are a hardworking individual who loves a fast paced work environment, able to multi-task with ease, want bragging rights that you can do something that few others can do and enjoys a tough challenge, then this may just be the job for you.

Our pizza "apprentices" start at $8.00, but if you can prove to us that you have what it takes then you can quickly move up using our unique "self promotion" system that allows you to move up in pay as you master new skills. Additionally for full time positions we offer paid vacation, HRA health benefits, AFLAC insurance and a never ending adventure. However, this job is not for those who like to have their weekend nights free! Our busiest days are Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. So all candidates must have open availability to work whenever they are needed.

Assistant Manager

If you enjoy a challenge, then you are at the right place. Imagine a Friday night with 30 employees crazily working, 100 + guests in the restaurant having a good time, 200+ guests on waits of up to 2 hours eagerly waiting for a table, carryout customers lined up waiting for their orders, food flying out of the kitchen at 100 mph, servers are running every which way, ten people are talking to you at the same time while you are greeting guests, helping in the kitchen and solving problems every 5 minutes. Does this sound like fun to you? If so, we might just have the position for you.

All candidates must have an amazing, awesome and outgoing personality with a passion for people and for serving great food. All potential candidates should have at least one year of manager level food service experience. Full service dining and alcohol experience is preferred. The assistant manager will be responsible for overseeing a full service dining room of up to 120 guests, including a full bar and carryout operations. The Assistant Manager will be responsible for assisting the other management staff in overseeing the operation.

This is an hourly management position with wage to be determined by experience and training. This position also includes a performance bonus, paid vacation, HRA health benefits, AFLAC insurance and a never ending adventure.

Kitchen Manager

If you read our Pizza Master job description above and you are interested but feel that you could not only do the job, but excel at it and lead others in doing it, then Kitchen Manager is the position for you. Please be advised - this job is not for the weak of heart! It is fun, exciting and fulfilling but it is one tough and crazy job that will never leave you bored. Some of your job duties will include everything a pizza master is responsible for but also ordering, training, evaluating employees, and much more.

This is an hourly management position with wage to be determined by experience and training. This position includes paid vacation, HRA health benefits, AFLAC insurance and a never ending adventure.

Hosts

If you are looking for a job where you can just stand at our front counter smile, greet customers and look pretty - then look somewhere else , as this job is not a cakewalk. Our hosts are responsible for coordinating the seating over over 25 tables, directing up to a dozen servers, managing a wait list, reservation list, working our carryout counter, taking orders, cleaning and organizing. The Host or Hostess is the first person that our guests will see or hear and it is important that we have a sharp, intelligent, quick on their feet person in this position to always give a warm, professional and smart experience to our guests. If you are good at multi-tasking, like challenges and are a very intuitive person then please come and see us!

We have full and part time positions open that start at $7.70 per hour and will move up in pay based on your skill and job performance. For full time positions we offer paid vacation, HRA health benefits, AFLAC insurance and a never a dull moment.

Servers

If you truly enjoy working with people, have a caring personality, and can juggle 100 things at the same time then being a server might be the job for you. All applicants must be happy, outgoing, have a super personality, bubbly, smiley, smart, intuitive, have good memorization skills and able to think quickly on their feet.

We have full and part time positions open that start at $3.85 per hour + tips. For full time positions we offer paid vacation, HRA health benefits, AFLAC insurance and a never a dull moment.
